

THE INSTITUTE OF BANKERS PAKISTAN

SAMPLE PAPER

National Bank of Pakistan - Cash Officers

ENGLISH*Read the following passage and answer questions 1 and 2

Numerous awesome innovations are at first welcomed with disrespect and doubt. The development of the plane was no special case. Although numerous individuals who airborne the flight on December 17, 1903, were energized and inspired, others laughed about it. The idea of flying an aircraft was repulsive to some individuals. However, individuals such as Wilbur and Orville Wright, the creators of the first flying machine, have other ambitions. Negative responses, be that as it may, did not stop the Wrights. Prompted by their desire to succeed, they proceeded with their analyses in flight.

Orville and Wilbur Wright dependably had a convincing enthusiasm for air transportation and mechanics. As young men, they earned cash by making and offering kites and mechanical toys. Later, they designed a newspaper folding machine, manufactured a printing press, and worked at a bike repair shop. In 1896, when they read about the death of Otto Lilienthal, the brothers' enthusiasm for flight developed into an impulse.
